One of the things that makes Maryland strong is its vibrant arts and culture sector. For 55 years, the Maryland State Arts Council (MSAC) has overseen the state’s investment in the arts to great success. That investment has skyrocketed during Governor Hogan’s term, increasing 72 percent!

This has allowed MSAC to invest in the sector like never before, by:
- distributing tens of millions of dollars in grant funding;
- creating programs that help artists deliver community-relevant projects;
- funding teaching artists to inspire new generations;
- bringing public art to state buildings and communities;
- supporting the work of our 24 county arts agencies and eight regional folklife centers;
- offering enriching professional development opportunities; and
- advancing local economic development priorities in our 29 Arts & Entertainment Districts.

Maryland’s creative sector now accounts for more than $11.7 billion, or 2.7 percent of the state’s economy, and contributes almost 80,000 jobs. During the Hogan administration, MSAC’s Grants for Organizations and County Arts Development grantees alone have created an estimated $1.2 billion in total economic activity, supporting 14,600 jobs and generating close to $50 million in state and local taxes annually.

MSAC’s dedicated staff, overseen by a citizen Council, work hard to ensure that the state’s investment means that all Marylanders have access to enriching arts experiences. Accessible programs with transparent processes support artists and organizations in all corners of the state. In turn, the arts transform us – they improve our quality of life, boost our economy, and inspire us in countless ways.

With a strong arts council that can effectively deliver public investment in the arts, I know that Maryland will continue to lead the way with one of the strongest and most vibrant arts sectors in the country.

Mike Gill, Secretary
Maryland Department of Commerce
GRANTS FOR ORGANIZATIONS

Operating support grants awarded through MSAC’s Grants for Organizations (GFO) program provide a base of support for non-profit organizations and units of government that produce or present arts programming that is open to the public.

GFO grantees provide access to the arts in their areas, create audiences for the future, uplift communities, and stimulate economic impact throughout the state.

$15,999,067 in grants supported 260 organizations

“I can tell you that without MSAC support after the 2020 shutdown, and beyond, Create would not be here today and thriving. Heartfelt gratitude to all of you, Staff and Board.” - Linda Marson, CEO/Executive Director, CREATE Arts Center
County arts agencies in each of Maryland’s 24 jurisdictions further MSAC’s goals by encouraging and supporting local arts activity while championing creative expression, diverse programming, and lifelong learning locally.

The County Arts Development program that funds county arts agencies encourages long-term planning at the local level and supports collaboration with MSAC.

$4.5 million in grants were distributed to 24 agencies to support grantmaking and encourage arts activities in local communities and schools.
CREATIVITY GRANTS

MSAC Creativity Grants offer funding to independent artists and arts organizations for project-based and general operating support.

ARTS IN EDUCATION

MSAC’s Arts in Education program promotes, strengthens, and enhances the arts and arts education in Maryland’s schools and community settings.

$511,514 in grants supported educational engagements in 133 schools and community settings

“Working at Stedwick Elementary School has (showed) me how to use the arts to foster an authentic learning environment. My job as a teaching artist is to build a creative, open space where the students know that their voice matters and they have the power to change their narrative.”

- Arianna Ross, CEO and Teaching Artist with Story Tapestries

POETRY OUT LOUD

Each year, MSAC produces the Poetry Out Loud (POL) competition, helping students across Maryland master public speaking skills, build self-confidence, and learn about their literary heritage.

Harrison Lynch from The King’s Christian Academy in St. Mary’s County was selected from among 25 competitors from 13 counties as the 2022 POL Maryland state champion. The POL poetry recitation contest is co-sponsored by the National Endowment for the Arts and The Poetry Foundation.
Maryland Traditions supports community-based living cultural traditions with three grant programs: the Folklife Network, Folklife Apprenticeship, and Heritage Award.

$346,651 in Folklife Network grants supported 8 regional folklife centers' work with local traditions

$65,000 in Folklife Apprenticeship grants supported traditional arts education for 13 teams of 2 artists each

$15,000 in Heritage Awards recognized long-term achievement in the traditional arts for 3 winners:

- Meki and JoAnn Toalepai (Anne Arundel County) - entertainers, event producers, and cultural ambassadors for Pacific Islander culture
- The Waterfowl Festival (Talbot County) - an annual event celebrating waterfowling culture and conservation traditions on the Eastern Shore

“This freedom that [Black sharecropper-style quilters] have to express themselves with this textile is not just artistically significant, it has a profound cultural significance that we may never know until years later. And if [master artist Catherine Wooten] is one of the last ones that we can talk to -- imagine if we miss this story?” - Suzanne Coley, Apprentice Artist, Sharecropper-style Quilting
INDEPENDENT ARTIST AWARDS

Independent Artist Awards recognize achievement by Maryland artists making work independent of an institution or organization. The awards are accompanied by grants that encourage artistic growth and sustained practice. Disciplines rotate on a three-year cycle between Performing, Visual/Media, and Literary arts. Awards are given at the regional and state levels.

69 Maryland Literary Artists were awarded $264,000 in grants

57 artists received a regional grant of $2,000 to recognize promise, and 12 artists received an award of $10,000 to recognize notable artistic achievement.

Two state awardees, Susan B Muaddi Darraj (Baltimore County), left, and Teri Ellen Cross Davis (Montgomery County) received an additional award of $15,000 to recognize outstanding artistic achievement.

15 new artists joined the Maryland Touring Roster in FY22, increasing to 86 active members

“Thanks to an MSAC Touring Grant, The Honey Dewdrops brought heartfelt folk and Americana music to the Frostburg State University’s Cultural Events Series, including a community workshop that explored singing techniques for finding the melody and creating harmony.” - The Honey Dewdrops
Maryland’s 29 Arts & Entertainment (A&E) Districts help develop and promote community involvement, tourism, and revitalization through tax-related incentives.

In 2022, the program, which was the first legislatively created program of its kind in the U.S., marked 20 years of supporting economic development in Maryland communities through encouraging arts activity.

Districts in Bethesda, Cumberland, Hagerstown, Silver Spring as well as the Bromo and Station North districts in Baltimore City were redesignated, extending the benefits to artists, property owners, and businesses for an additional 10 years.

Operating support grants totaling $464,000 supported activities in districts statewide.
MSAC offers the arts community across the state multiple avenues for connecting with MSAC and with one another through learning and networking.

82 virtual professional development sessions were offered by MSAC, serving 2,427 participants.
