

Lynn Yoder, who is an artist and picture framer, has been creating art since childhood. He received his BFA degree in painting and graphic design from Frostburg State University in 2002. After spending a number of years as an art teacher, illustrator, and portrait painter, Lynn bridled his career for health reasons. Ironically he believes this time has made him a better artist. He is learning to appreciate each moment and to be more fully present, whether painting or otherwise. He paints in oils a few hours per week as his health allows. Occasionally he paints commissioned work, but enjoys the simplicity of studies and plein air work. Much of his work evokes quiet or peaceful emotions, perhaps tied to his melancholic personality, quiet lifestyle, and Christian faith. Religious themes are a natural expression for him. After 16 years of experience as a custom picture framer, Lynn opened, Yoder Art & Framing in 2022. Located on the campus of Spruce Forest Artisan Village in Grantsville, MD, the business serves as a frame shop, studio, gallery, and teaching space. View Lynn's portfolio at www.yoderart.com.
